Alliance Association Bank Online Payment Requirements

To use the online payment system you must maintain a deposit account with a financial institution and a homeowners association (“HOA”) account with a HOA that participates with Alliance Association Bank online payment service. One-Time or Recurring Payments will authorize the Bank to initiate ACH debit(s) from your deposit account in accordance with your instructions.

You must also know your management company ID, association ID, and unit ID, all of which should be located on the payment coupon of your HOA billing statement. If you have difficulty finding the ID numbers, please contact your HOA or management company.

Any person who successfully provides their management company ID, association ID, and unit ID may use any or all features of the online payment service. Alliance Association Bank online payment transactions performed by an owner of the registered deposit account will be considered authorized transactions.

One-Time Payment

By clicking on the “Authorize Payment” button on the payment page, you authorize Alliance Association Bank to initiate a onetime electronic payment from your deposit account. The amount of any such payment will be the amount you specify in the payment screen shown in the payment process, plus all applicable fees and service charges. You must specify the date you want the funds for the payment to be withdrawn from your deposit account. We require that you schedule the payment to be withdrawn on a business day. Our business days are Monday through Friday. Saturday and Sunday and Federal holidays are not considered business days. We recommend that you submit your payment at least four business days before the due date indicated on your invoice or coupon to avoid a late charge.

Recurring Payments

By checking the “Agree to Terms and Conditions” check box, you enroll in Alliance Association Bank recurring payments program, and authorize Alliance Association Bank to initiate recurring electronic payments from the bank account you specify. When you schedule a payment, you must specify the date you want the funds for payment withdrawn from your deposit account. If the scheduled payment date falls on a weekend or holiday, you understand that the payment may be executed on the next business day. Funds will be transferred from your account no later than four (4) business days from the date you designate as the scheduled date. Therefore, you must plan your payment date accordingly to avoid any late charges from your designated payee.

The amount of the recurring payments will be the amount you establish or the amount established by your management company for that period, plus all applicable fees and service charges. If the amount of the payment varies from the immediately preceding payment, Alliance Association Bank will send you written notice of the amount due and the date on which the transfer will be debited at least ten calendar days before the scheduled transfer date. You understand that this authorization will remain in effect until you cancel it in writing, and you agree to
